Blended Family Gatherings: Can You Survive Them?
~Questionnaire~

What do you already know about their family traditions?

Does the attitude of your significant other change toward you in the presence of his/her family?
If so, positive or negative? Do you know why?

How often does their past relationships come up in conversation? Who usually starts this conversation? How does this make you feel? How does the conversation end?

Are these gatherings something the children look forward to or do they dread the interaction?
Do you know why?

What from your past have you not dealt with that may contribute to the success or failure of this gathering?
